

What's New in TouchBistro 9.1.6

If you forget to complete an online order, TouchBistro will now warn you when you try to close your day.

We've made several changes to setting up Staff Types. A number of the permissions have been renamed and rearranged.

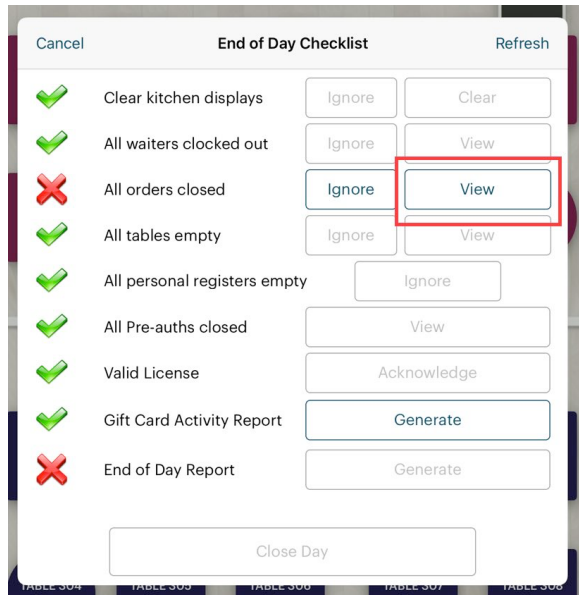

Consult these releases note for further details about these changes and more.

You Can No Longer End Your Day Without Completing Online Orders

You will no longer be able to close your day if you have any accepted online orders that have not been completed.

If you do attempt to perform your End of Day with uncompleted online orders, you will get a warning in the All orders closed section of the checklist. Click View to see uncompleted online orders.

Tap View and you will be taken to your Online Orders tab. Complete any outstanding accepted orders.

Staff Types

Realignment Of Staff Type Permissions

Previous to 9.1.6, the Staff Types permissions were divided between Staff and Manager permissions.

In 9.1.6, we have realigned and renamed a number of staff and managerial permissions into General permissions and Payment permissions. The tables below show you what the old permission was called, what its new name is (if any), and where it's been moved to.
